Hagerty Refutes Pearson

Press Secretary Has An Itemized Answer To Points Reported In Columnist's Story

WASHINGTON (AP)—Press secretary James C. Hagerty today described as "the most amazing document of falsehood that I have ever seen" a report by columnist Drew Pearson that President Eisenhower suffered a "mild relapse" on his Western campaign trip.

Hagerty said it is "absolutely and categorically" untrue that Eisenhower suffered a relapse at any time on the trip. Hagerty told reporters there has been no relapse on that or any other occasion. Opening the discussion on his own, without waiting for questions at his news conference, Hagerty said he obtained a copy of the Pearson column from newspapers which queried him about it. The column was distributed for publication tomorrow.

Hagerty said that on one page alone there were 10 misstatements of fact — three in one sentence. Hagerty went over what he called the misstatements one by one. At the end, he remarked:

"I am trying not to get mad on this one, but—" he shook his head vigorously from side to side.

Then he went on, "Well, I think this is about the worst job of reporting I have ever seen."

Hagerty said he wanted to recommend that newspapers which print the Pearson column also print his remarks about it. He said he had called Pearson's secretary and told her of his plans to make a public statement on the column and was informed that the columnist was on the way to the Midwest.

As Hagerty quoted the column, it began:

"It will be vigorously denied that President Eisenhower apparently suffered a mild relapse on his Western campaign trip. This is one reason for the head-to-toe examination this week-end. Such an examination has been promised but it was made all the more necessary by the incident of his West Coast trip."

"Whether it was campaign exhaustion or something more serious, it hit Ike while he was driving back to the airport from Minneapolis. He suddenly turned to others in the car and announced 'I can't take any more of this, let's get out of here.'"

All of Farmer's Children Are Killed In Car-Train Crash

SIGOURNEY, Iowa (AP)—"It was bad walking into that empty house . . . always before there'd be someone yelling 'Hi, dad.'"

"This time . . . only silence. It's going to be rough for a while." That's how Richard Hammes, 46, a farmer near this small southeast Iowa town, spoke of the tragic car-train crash that killed all eight of his children at a rail crossing three miles northeast of here yesterday.

His wife, Ruth, 36, was injured in the accident, which started as a routine one-mile trip from the Hammes 100-acre farm to take the older children to school. Mrs. Hammes was reported in fair condition at a hospital here.

A neighbor lady came up and told Hammes there'd been an accident.

"I didn't think at first it would be real bad. Maybe the car banged up a little . . ."

"When I got there I saw some of the kids were — hurt — real bad. I went over to my wife. She was sitting on the ground, holding the two young ones . . ."

The Hammes children were Ronnie and Donnie, twins aged 9; Karen, 8; Linda, 7; Gary, 6; Rosemary, who would have been 3 on Nov. 4; and twins, Rickie and Vicky, 1.

Ike Pledges Atom Supply To Agency

Will Ask Congress For Okay to Give Nuclear Material

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—President Eisenhower today gave the new international atomic energy agency a send-off with a pledge of an initial 11,000 pounds of uranium 235 plus as much as all other nations contribute until 1960.

It was the first pledge of fissionable material received by the agency. It was delivered by Louis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, at signing ceremonies of an 82-nation atomic energy conference on behalf of President Eisenhower.

In his message, Eisenhower said he would present the agency's charter to the Senate for ratification and would request congressional authority to transfer special nuclear materials to the agency. He added:

"I wish my country to be among the first to recognize by official action what you at this conference have accomplished."

"Assuming that all nations represented at the conference undertake parallel steps—within their capabilities—together we can overcome the obstacles that lie ahead and prove to each other that international controls are not only feasible but generally acceptable as a way to achieve peace."

The charter of the new agency was adopted unanimously Tuesday after a month's debate and nearly three years of negotiation begun when Eisenhower proposed the formation of a world atom-for-peace project in December 1953.

The agency will come into force when 18 nations, including three of the major atomic powers, submit ratification. Work will actually start at proposed headquarters in Vienna soon after a general conference next summer.

At that time, underdeveloped nations will apply to the agency for fissionable material contributed by the major atomic powers. They will build atomic power plants and start research and medical projects.

Chinese Mobs Riot Again in Singapore, Four Are Killed

SINGAPORE (AP)—Chinese mobs rioted anew in Singapore today. Officials said 4 demonstrators were killed by police guns and 80 injured in the outbreak sparked by government attempts to end a Red-inspired students' strike.

The leftist Peoples Action party called on the government to resign as fighting spread through the colony. The riots began on the east side of Singapore Island near the Chung Cheng High School. About 2,000 Communist-led students at this and another Chinese school have been on a sitdown strike since Oct. 10 protesting the government's ban on their student union and the arrest of four union officials.

Rebellious students managed to stay in the schools another night. But police chased them out this morning with clubs and tear gas. Later the students joined striking workers and hoodlums in clashes with police.

Six Europeans were injured when their cars were attacked by rioters.

Rebels Hold Western Half of Hungary; U.S. Considers Moves to Show Support

Direct Protest to Moscow, UN Appeal Are Possibilities

Bulletin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has started consultation with Britain, France and other friendly governments on "the feasibility and advisability" of taking the Hungarian situation into the United Nations.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was reported today to be considering several possible moves to show support for the revolt against Soviet communism in Eastern Europe.

Among possible actions under study are:

1. A protest to Moscow against the use of Russian forces in Hungary.
2. An appeal to the U.N. for an inquiry into the role of Russian forces in the Hungarian fighting.
3. Extension of financial and economic aid to regimes which show independence of Moscow.

The State Department is looking into all aspects of the matter—legal, moral and political—in a study of what is possible and desirable.

The subject presumably was discussed at a morning session of the National Security Council with President Eisenhower presiding.

In Paris, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said the United States, Britain and France might take the Hungarian case to the U.N., charging illegal use of Soviet army units to shoot down demonstrating workers and students.

Officials have conceded that an appeal to the U. N. is in fact being studied but said that no decision had yet been made.

Officials also said that reports from Budapest told of various demonstrator groups appealing to the U. S. Legation within the last two or three days for help to their cause.

Legation officials told them the legation was reporting fully to Washington on developments and informing officials here of the

State Library Arranges Aid In Rural Area

JEFFERSON CITY (MPA)—The Missouri state library has revealed that it is working on plans to spend $188,000 a year in federal aid to establish and improve library service in rural areas of the state.

The federal funds are available through a bill signed by President Eisenhower last June. Missouri is eligible for approximately $188,000 a year for five years to provide new service or to strengthen existing library service in rural areas.

The state library will administer the plan which first must be approved by the U.S. commissioner of education under provisions of the federal law.

According to Edna Bothe, director of field service at the state library, Missouri's major problems are sparsely populated, unserved areas and libraries with incomes too small for modern library service.

Miss Bothe reports that 831,419 persons, or 21 per cent of the Missouri population, do not receive adequate library service. In 23 counties there are no public libraries in the county and in 65 counties there is no county wide library service.

Plans proposed by the state library consist of further bookmobile service to unserved and infrequently served areas; financial aid to rural libraries unable to provide complete service, and cooperative projects which would improve the quality of service at various city and county libraries.

According to the plan, the state's bookmobile service would be increased in areas now served and new areas for the rolling libraries would be developed. City and county libraries which have bookmobile service to rural areas would also receive financial aid.

Small city libraries in rural areas would receive direct grants for improving service if they affiliate or merge with county units. Up to $3,000 would be granted for an immediate legal merger between a city and county library, lesser amounts for affiliation for a definite period. For forming a regional library, two counties could receive $7,500 each.

Other forms of aid proposed under the state library plan include cooperative cataloging and purchasing of books, special training programs for librarians and assistance in the field of public relations.

feelings of the legation officers about the situation.

These accounts did not say the workers had asked at the U. S. Legation for an appeal to the U.N. as they were reported to have done at the British legation.

A question which has been worked on intensely here is that of possible financial and economic aid to regimes which make a determined effort to assert independence from Moscow.

Whether aid may be requested in Hungary—whether in fact a government of real independence will emerge from the present crisis there—is yet to be seen. But there is increasing evidence here that if the Communist regime in Poland, which has declared its independence of Soviet control, asks for U. S. assistance it will get a very quick and favorable answer.

Reports Huge Wheat Stock Rots in Tents

Government Owned Surplus Storage Involves 13 Banks

WASHINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Sen. Scott (D-NC) says about 35 million bushels of government-owned surplus wheat rotted after a Texas firm stored it in tents. He says the government "may have to pay a pretty price to bail out the banks that are involved . . ."

Scott told a Democratic rally yesterday the situation involves "millions of dollars." He named the storing firm as Burrus Mills, Inc., of Texas.

The senator also said Arthur Eisenhower, President Eisenhower's brother, is the head of one of the 13 banks involved in the storage deal and a director of another.

In Washington, D. C., Robert L. Farrington, Agriculture Department solicitor, said that agency has suffered no losses and "does not expect to do so."

In Dallas, Jack P. Burrus, president of the milling company, said, "The government is stuck with nothing," adding that "any loss suffered is a loss to Burrus, Inc., and not to the government or anyone else."

One of the banks which extended credit to the Burrus firm was identified as the Commerce Trust Co. of Kansas City. Arthur Eisenhower is an official of that institution.

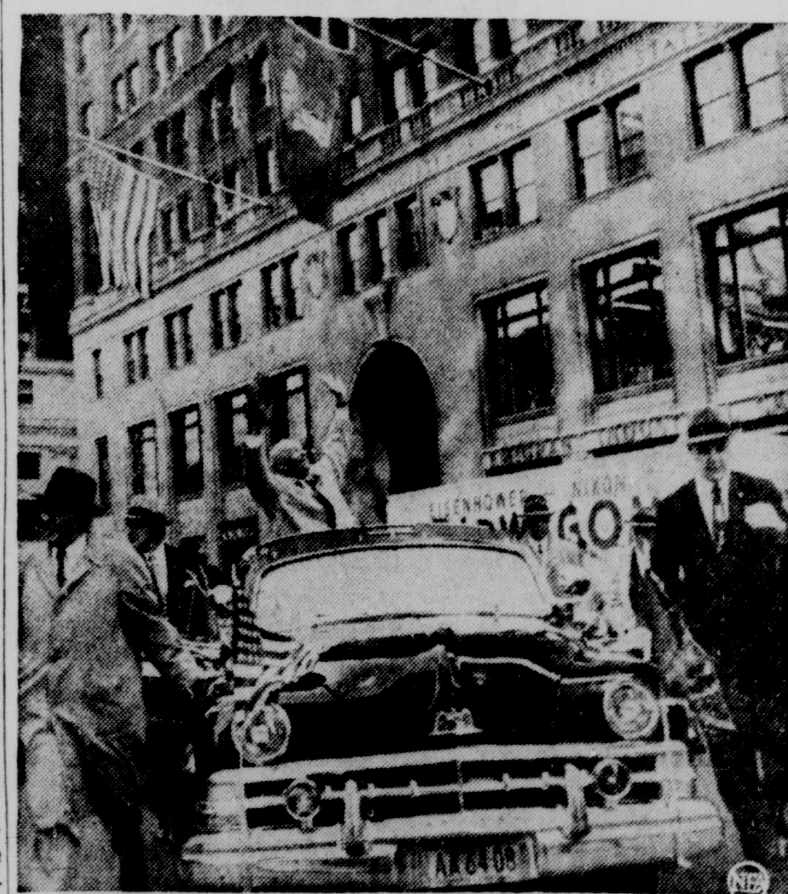

In his speech at the rally, Scott said the Burrus firm "concocted a very novel scheme for storing wheat" in tents and sold the Department of Agriculture on the idea two years ago.

Scott said asphalt floors were laid for the tents which he said were filled with wheat "through the hole that would ordinarily be used for tent poles." He said that "as the wheat filled the tent it would rise and stand erect . . . It seems that after the tents were filled, some body forgot to stop up the pole holes—and the wheat rotted."

Air Refueling Unit to Get Overseas Duty

Within the next 30 days the Strategic Air Command's 340th Air Refueling Squadron of Whiteman Air Force Base will deploy outside the United States for an indefinite period of time.

Overseas assignment for Strategic Air Command tactical units is a vital part of SAC's global mobility operations and gives the deploying unit invaluable simulated combat experience flying in various parts of the world under many different climatic conditions.

The 340th Air Refueling Squadron was activated as an integral part of the 340th Bombardment Wing four years ago and during Whiteman Air Force Base's early construction period the Refueling Squadron began their initial operations attached to the Fifteenth Air Force at Castle AFB, Calif.

The squadron came to this Eighth Air Force installation in March, 1954, and since then have established an enviable record. In addition to refueling the 340th Bomb Wing's B-47's they have transferred millions of gallons of fuel to a variety of tactical aircraft including the first refueling of the B-52 and F-101 "Voodoo."

Several Other Major Cities Besides Budapest in Turmoil

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Hungary's anti-Communist civil war spread over much of the country today despite orders from the government for an all-out military effort to crush the rebels.

Three Belgian diplomats who arrived at the Austrian border after leaving Budapest at 11 a.m. said:

"The whole of western Hungary is in the hands of the rebels."

Heavy fighting raged throughout last night and also today in Budapest, with scores of Russian tanks taking part.

"The dead and dying were lying about everywhere in the streets," the diplomats reported.

Rebels controlled the highway to Vienna, from Budapest to the border. Rebel civilians and Hungarian soldiers who had deserted to the revolution stopped the Belgians six times enroute to the Austrian frontier.

Several thousand persons were believed dead or wounded in fighting that had flamed for three days in the Danube capital and spread to the western countryside and such major cities as Győr, Szeged, Szolnok and Pecs.

Three radio stations apparently were in the hands of rebel forces. All were heard faintly here, calling themselves "The Freedom Radio." Two identified themselves as being at Pecs, near the Yugoslav frontier, and Miskolc, near the Czech border.

Leaflets proclaiming establishment of a "revolutionary government" were being distributed. Reports at the Austrian border indicated Hungarian workers had gone out in a general strike, paralyzing railways, transport and other industry.

The pledges of the new government of Premier Imre Nagy, for a new deal with eventual withdrawal of Soviet troops from the country, apparently had not gotten anywhere. The Budapest radio broadcast repeated urgent appeals to the rebels to give up their arms and cease the bloodshed.

These broadcasts pledged reforms of all kinds, an amnesty for rebels, better living conditions, independence from Moscow, and a new popular front government "today or tomorrow."

The radio appeals were addressed especially to "young soldiers" who apparently had deserted the government, to workers, youths and even "old Communists."

The general strike apparently had stopped all rail movement except military traffic.

Some of the dead in Budapest had been shot down by Russian tanks when demonstrators advanced with only Hungarian flags and no weapons.

Budapest, a city of 1 1/2 million, was a capital of gaping and blackened wounds in its buildings. Debris littered its streets.

Pecs and Miskolc are cities of 86,000 and 136,000. Győr and Szeged, where other anti-Soviet disorders were reported, are places of 66,000 and 88,000.

The news that Russian and Hungarian troops had launched the all-out attack was the last report received from inside the embattled city from Associated Press correspondent Endre Marton before his temporary telegraphic communications were broken early today.

An Austrian coming across the border at Nickelsdorf said he saw Russian soldiers fire on about 100 Hungarian demonstrators at the small town of Magyarórvár, about 10 miles from the border, when the Hungarians attempted to tear down a Soviet flag. Many were killed or wounded, he added.

New Violence Rocks North African Sector

French Deny Effort To Crash Roadblock Set Up By Arabs

TUNIS (AP)—New violence rocked North Africa as border incidents strained French-Tunisian relations another notch today.

Premier Habib Bourguiba's government claimed many Tunisians were wounded when a French military convoy from Algeria tried to smash through a roadblock the Arabs had set up to prevent such crossings.

The French denied breaching any barricade and said there had been no casualties.

Elsewhere in Tunisia, Algeria and Morocco, French troops and Arabs clashed in fresh flareups sparked by resentment over French seizure of five top Algerian rebels Monday while en route to a conference in Tunis.

In Casablanca, two Moroccan policemen were killed and two wounded last night in the European quarter. A jeep carrying the four was sprayed by machine-gun fire from an American-made car.

In Algiers, six Europeans were wounded when extremists fired into a cafe.

In Oran, where four Europeans were killed by rebels yesterday, French forces shot down five rebels. The French lost one dead and four wounded.

At Ain Mokrane near Oran, 14 rebels were killed. Seventeen others fell elsewhere in Algeria.

The French have been patrolling the Tunisian border to prevent supplies of arms from passing over to the rebels.

The French have granted Tunisia independence, but thousands of troops still remain in the country pending final negotiations.

Weather Expected To Warmup After Rain, Cool Spell

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Missouri was cloudless and cool today after receiving much-needed rain in parts of the state yesterday, the weather bureau reported.

Rains started before noon yesterday on the Missouri-Kansas line. They moved across the state during the day and reached St. Louis last night. No rain had been reported since midnight.

Caruthersville recorded a fall of 1.49 inches. Columbia and New Madrid had more than an inch. Numerous cities reported more than half an inch, an amount the weather bureau said would be enough to be "very beneficial."

The weather is expected to be generally fair tonight and tomorrow. Scattered frost is predicted for the southeast tonight. The low in the northwest should be 50 to 55. Warmer temperatures are expected tomorrow with a high in the 70s.

Teen-age Girls Trick or Treat For Dystrophy

Six teenage girls, all juniors in Sacred Heart high school, wanted to go out on Halloween and yet they knew they were too old for trick or treat. Maybe, they thought, they could go out for some worthy cause and do some good on this gayest of all nights of the year.

The six of them, Mariann Keens, Connie Jirik, Barbara Mayfield, Sue Keller, Ruby Klein and Linda Wiesing, talked it over and decided on helping the Muscular Dystrophy Fund. Maybe they could help out on that, Mariann told her aunt, Miss Marion Keens, and asked her if she would find out for her, so Miss Keens called Mrs. Lily Thomas, president of the Pettis County Chapter, Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, who was very happy the girls wanted to help. And so the girls will visit homes that night in the south part of the third precinct of the first ward.

They will be wearing the red and gold ribbon that all volunteers will wear when they march for muscular dystrophy. This little badge tells a story. The ribbon says simply, Volunteer Muscular Dystrophy Association of America but the design stamped on the ribbon is significant. It is the medical symbol called the caduceus, two entwined serpents embracing a torch.

Accidents

Miss Sheila Isgur, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Isgur, 908 West Third, suffered head injuries Thursday night when she fell while participating in the Smith-Cotton High School Homecoming snake dance.

The girl was in the long line of students which was weaving back and forth when the student behind her was released and she in turn ended up on the end of the line and was whip-cracked. She fell and before the student holding to her could let go, she had fallen on her head and had been dragged a short distance.

She was taken to Bothwell Hospital, where she was admitted for observation.

Homer Hudson, Tipton, was burned on both hands when a gasoline soaked rag he was using at the family home caught fire from the pilot light on a hot water heater. The bathroom walls had been painted and Homer was cleaning up a few spots of paint.

He was given first aid by Dr. J. F. Potts. His work as custodian at the public school building is being cared for by his assistant, Greg Faherty.

Sgt. Ralph Hill, 340th Food Service, Whiteman AFB, was painfully injured about 1:20 a.m. Friday when he suffered two stab wounds in his back, on West Petis Street. He is a patient at the Whiteman AFB Hospital where he was taken early today, from the Bothwell Hospital.

Hill walked into police headquarters at 1:40 a.m. and told Sgt. Cecil Smith he had been stabbed. He was checked and then sent to Bothwell Hospital in the Ewing ambulance, where Dr. A. R. Mad-

NAACP Says No Aid Given In Lucy Case

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People denied in answer to a million dollar suit that it aided Atherine Lucy Foster in enrolling at the University of Alabama and that it provided legal counsel in her suit against university authorities.

Mrs. Foster became a student at the school Feb. 1 under a federal court order. On Feb. 6 rioters drove her from the campus.

In her fight to re-enter the university, she accused Ed Watts and Earl Watts, brothers living at Tuscaloosa, Kenneth Lewis Thompson, also of Tuscaloosa, and R. E. Chambliss of Birmingham of conspiring in the mob action against her.

Mrs. Foster dropped the charges on Feb. 9, but soon thereafter the four men each filed a million dollar suit against the Negro co-ed.

The denial by the NAACP that it aided Mrs. Foster came yesterday in reply to interrogatories filed by attorneys for Ed Watts.

overweight truck on Highway 50 on Oct. 23; and William Eugene Uhlenbeck, Calhoun, and Francis Franklin Mercer, Windsor, each fined $25 on charges of driving trucks whose gross weights exceeded their license limits on Route D on Oct. 8.

Those pleading not guilty to charges of driving trucks whose load was said to exceed their axle limits were Hershel Ray Goans, Barnett, Ragone W. Washburn, Windsor, and Vaughn Kenneth Shaeffer, Leeton. All three are charged with the offense on Route D on Oct. 8, and hearings were set for Oct. 31.

Fined on charges of passing on a hill were: Carl Lewis Dumsday, Sedalia, fined $25 for the offense on Highway 13 on Oct. 17; Raymond Smith Kilhon, Sedalia, fined $15 for the offense on Highway 50 on Oct. 12, and Arthur Dixon Boettge, Kansas City, Kan., fined $15 for the offense on Highway 50 on Oct. 14.

Ike Claims Adlai Clouds Big Challenge

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says Adlai E. Stevenson's stand on hydrogen bomb testing only clouds a "compelling challenge" to make nuclear war impossible.

Eisenhower told a capacity crowd in New York's Madison Square Garden — and the nation by radio-TV — last night the goal of his administration is to find a "safe and sound" means of disarmament "so that history can never say that this generation left humanity to be crucified upon a cross of iron."

"The compelling challenge before the world is not the matter of testing nuclear weapons — but of making impossible their use in nuclear war," he declared.

The partisan crowd responded with its greatest swell of applause when he said the United States stands in "instant readiness to lay aside all nuclear weapons — including their testing — when, but only when, we have safeguards that others will do the same."

In the same crowded hall two nights earlier, Stevenson had won strong applause with his assertion that the United States should take the lead in seeking agreement to halt H-bomb tests as a first step toward preventing possible world destruction.

Stevenson repeated his contention that while inspection of Russian military installations is desirable, tests could be halted by agreement. He said any H-bomb explosion could be detected immediately.

Eisenhower attracted an estimated 10,000 standees outside the Garden, while Stevenson had few. Stevenson rode almost unnoticed through New York streets. Eisenhower was cheered by crowds bunched on street corners where police had halted traffic for his caravan.

Famed German Pianist Dies After Surgery

LONDON (AP) — Walter Gieseking, 66, famed German pianist, died early today after an emergency operation in a London hospital.

He became ill after arriving in London Monday to make some recordings. Taken to a hospital, he was operated on for relief of pancreatitis — inflammation of the pancreas.

The pianist, son of a well-known entomologist, was born in 1895 in Lyon, France.

He made his concert debut in 1913. Eventually he won renown as one of the foremost interpreters of Mozart.

Gieseking, who once played for Adolf Hitler, became a storm center when he appeared on the concert stage after World War II.

He was detained by the U.S. Justice Department in 1949 when he arrived in America to begin a concert tour and eventually agreed to leave the country.

Gieseking denied, however, charges that he was anti-Semitic or that he had planned to disseminate German propaganda.

In 1963, he succeeded in making an appearance in New York's Carnegie Hall. A group of Jewish War Veterans and a Zionis organization picketed the hall in protest.

Two years later he was soloist with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

Nixon to Make Last Campaign Visit to Coast

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Nixon makes his last visit of the campaign to the Pacific Coast today, brimming with confidence that the election tide is running heavily in favor of President Eisenhower.

He said in a statement, "On the basis of what I have observed first hand in the past week, culminating in the tremendous crowds our campaign drew in the Chicago area, I am revising my estimates of the size of the Eisenhower vote upwards."

He said that his campaigning in Chicago had convinced him that his party would get "as much as 40 per cent" of the Negro vote this year, or double the 1952 figure.

He said that many Negro leaders had told him they now realized their best hope in getting action on civil rights legislation lay in the election of a Republican Congress as well as a second term for Eisenhower.

The vice president's first thrust in his Western trip is aimed at the two key Senate races in Washington and Oregon. He has an afternoon speech scheduled in Walla Walla, Wash., and a night rally at Medford, Ore.

In Washington Republican Gov. Arthur Langlie is trying to unseat Sen. Warren Magnuson (D-Wash.) while in Oregon, former Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay is after the job of Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.).

Faithful Workers' Class Holds Meeting

The Faithful Workers' Class of the Windsor Baptist Church held its quarterly business and social meeting in the home of Mrs. Edward Shipp. There were 17 members present.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Rolland Hicks, Mrs. Vernon Miller presided. The devotional was given by Mrs. Virgil Cooper. The general theme for the year's programs has been "Women of the Bible." Mrs. M. A. Bailey presented the last of these programs using as her subject, "Women Who Were Friends and Co-Workers." She gave some very interesting information concerning some of the lesser-known women of the Bible.

Two vacancies among the class officers were filled by the election of Mrs. Ivan Grinstead as second vice-president and Mrs. Scott Sappington as secretary. Dates were decided upon for the sending of gifts to the girl in the Missouri Baptist Children's Home at Pattonville whom the class has "adopted." The meeting closed with prayer by the teacher, Mrs. R. L. Allen.

Whittier PTA Sponsors Scouts; Need Leaders

The Whittier PTA met Oct. 19 in the auditorium with a nice group.

Mrs. T. E. Owen, president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Ralph Cooke gave an inspiring devotional.

It was announced that the PTA would sponsor the Cub Scouts. A meeting for interested parents is to be held at the Marty McQuittys, 666 East 13th, Nov. 2 at 7:30 p.m. for the purpose of securing leaders.

The education group will meet Oct. 26 at the home of Mrs. Owen, 714 East 11th, with a covered dish luncheon at noon.

Mrs. Jack Herndon led group singing before Mr. Thomas, principal, presented the program, "Teachers Explain School Program," with teachers explaining their subjects and the effect each had on the child's progress.

A social hour was held with refreshments served from a Halloween decorated table.

Jefferson PTA Meets, Has Program by Pupils

The Jefferson School PTA met Oct. 19 with a large group present. Phillis Cornelius gave the devotional by playing "Faith of Our Fathers" on a clarinet. The president, Mrs. A. L. Jones conducted the meeting.

The program, "The Spirit of '76" was presented by the fifth grade, taught by Mrs. Owens, with the boys taking the leading parts and the girls forming a pretty background.

Mr. Liedel gave a short talk and showed pictures of his home town in Germany.

The fifth grade kept the banner they won last month. Future PTA meetings will be held at 7:30 instead of eight.

The group went downstairs to the old luncheon room where tables and benches were auctioned.

Wet Weather Seen For Broad Areas Of Northern US

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wet weather was the outlook today for broad areas in the northern part of the country from the Pacific Coast to the upper Ohio Valley.

More rain fell in the Far Northwest, with heaviest amounts measuring more than 3½ inches, along the Oregon coast.

The storm which moved from the Rockies and across the plains weakened as it advanced across the Mississippi Valley to the western Great Lakes region. However, moderate rainfall was reported in many areas, with heaviest falls from southern Illinois southward into Arkansas and northern Mississippi. Strong winds were reported in many areas, and hail pelted some sections of the storm belt.

Some cooling occurred in the Eastern Plains. Little temperature change was reported in other sections of the country.

Emphasis On Trust In Youth

Pinpointing the present importance and future potential of our country's youth is the sixth annual observance of National Catholic Youth Week from October 28 through November 4.

Calling attention to this event, Right Rev. Msgr. Joseph E. Schieder, National Director of Youth, says that seven million young people all over the country will engage in this nationally directed program of activities built around the theme, "Trust In Youth."

No doubt there is a teen-age problem in the country. Much of the comment about it has been so negative in recent years it is refreshing to see that emphasis — such as that planned by Youth Week — will be on the positive aspect of youth, its promise and capabilities.

The National Council of Catholic Youth extends to every city, town and section of the country, and its program embraces a wide range of religious exercises, radio and TV programs, civic activities, social affairs and athletic events. Youngsters, teenagers, young adults — both in and out of college — ALL youth from 7 to 30 will celebrate the week.

"Trust in Youth Pays" is a declaration of confidence in the coming generation which implies reciprocity — security in exchange for faith. It is toward that relation that we must direct our hopes for the future. Without it we run the risk of encouraging immaturity and irresponsibility among youth on the one hand, and anxiety and frustration in their elders on the other.

It is obvious that there is nothing under God we can trust unless we can trust those whom He has appointed to build on those foundations we may have laid, or to rebuild where we have erred.

Total trust is in God alone, yet a large part of it should be given youth.

And so National Catholic Youth Week emphasizes the positive aspect of youth. Youth wants, and indeed needs, responsibility. Today perhaps more than at any other time, youth has sharper realization of its future role in society than the youngsters of yesteryear. This is evidenced by earnestness, devotion and sense of vocation which characterize most young men and women today, even though we don't hear and read as much about them as we do the juvenile delinquents.

Thus there is firm ground for our Trust In Youth, not only next week but in all the weeks to come. Plowing of this ground should be done with Faith.

Washington Merry-Go-Round--

Dulles' Do-Nothing Policy May Be Wise

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.—A good many days before the Polish revolt, Allen Dulles, head of Central Intelligence, the younger brother of the Secretary of State, predicted that what did happen would happen. He also predicted serious straining at the leash against Moscow in other satellite countries.

Finally he urged the Eisenhower administration to do something to encourage the satellite break-away. He found like leaders and State Department strategists, however, much too preoccupied in the political campaign to do much serious iron curtain thinking.

In Washington, Allen Dulles, the much less publicized member of the Dulles family, is considered by far the brighter of the two brothers. Though he operates under a careful cloak of secrecy so that his mistakes are not known to the public, he has made few mistakes (his backing of Col. Nasser was the worst), and has called the shots with remarkable accuracy.

In this case, however, it looks as if the elder Dulles brother's do-nothing policy for Poland was wiser than Allen's do-something policy.

Khrushchev Out?

You can write it down as almost certain that bubbling, vodka-drinking Nikita Khrushchev, the Secretary of the Communist party who tried to soften the tough policies of Joe Stalin, is on his way out.

A small clique inside the Kremlin has been gunning for him for some time. Now the Polish revolt gives them an excuse to oust him. His ousting will probably be bad news for the United States, because Khrushchev, with all his faults, was a lot more tolerant toward the rest of the world than ruthless Joe Stalin. He gave the Russian people more freedom, had started to lift the iron curtain, and, according to reports from U. S. Ambassador Bohlen, seemed to think that hydrogen war would spell the end of civilization.

The group that has disapproved of Khrushchev's policies is headed by dour, America-hating ex-foreign minister Molotov, who believes in the Stalin school that toughness pays. Now he can say: "I told you so."

Molotov is too old to head up the Kremlin. The man who will probably fill Nikita's shoes is Anastas Mikoyan, who has played both the Molotov and the Khrushchev sides and can get along with both.

Note—Khrushchev has a son-in-law in Washington. He is first secretary of the Soviet Embassy, whose job it was to negotiate with Pan American Airways for landing rights in Russia. He seemed rather friendly to the United States. Khrushchev startled American diplomats not long ago by hinting that he would like to have his son be educated in the U. S. A.

Ike Raises to See

President Eisenhower is attempting to deal discriminating with the difficult shift by President Tito of Yugoslavia.

Tito only recently concluded several days of confidential talks with Soviet leaders at Yalta. No one can be sure whether the effect of those discussions will be to move Tito closer to Moscow.

The Yugoslavs have given Secretary of State Dulles "assurances" that no change of that sort is contemplated.

But such declarations are not necessarily conclusive evidence. They could be taking us for a ride.

In this dilemma, the President has decided on a cautious course he hopes will neither thrust Tito into the Kremlin's arms nor make the United States the dupe of newly conceived Communist strategy.

Since the law now leaves it to his discretion whether or not to continue aid to Yugoslavia, Eisenhower says we will maintain economic assistance but hold up on delivery of already ordered heavy military equipment, including 200 jet planes.

If Tito is still earnestly trying to "stand in the middle" as an independent without close ties to either West or East, it is definitely to our advantage to help him stay strong, economic aid obviously contributes to his basic underpinning of strength.

So, naturally, would heavy arms. We are not cancelling arms aid for good and all, but suspending deliveries while we observe the concrete results of the recent Yugoslav-Russian talks. Should our fears of a closer liaison prove groundless, we may resume such shipments.

On the other hand, should it become unmistakably clear that Tito is moving back into the Soviet orbit, we would presumably kill all further arms assistance and probably economic help as well.

Our present posture therefore is largely one of "wait and see." The President wisely it seems, believes we can afford to hang on a while longer to get plainer indications of Tito's intentions.

Worth Thorough Test

At Geneva in 1955 President Eisenhower proposed a system of aerial inspection as a means of enforcing world armament control.

At the time, and subsequently, it was viewed as a bold suggestion aimed at throwing the Russians off base, but not one that could be described as eminently practical.

Many doubted that even if put into practice such an inspection plan would be an effective check on what nations were doing in the armaments field.

Possibly this objection is sound. But recently the Italians tested the idea on a limited scale with amazingly good results.

A jet plane flying 500 miles an hour, at the admittedly low altitude of 400 feet, caught a clear picture of a poodle dog on the ground. Hundreds of other small objects were picked up with similar clarity. A photograph showed a man with a baby in his arms; the picture was so fine-grained the child was identifiable, even though largely hidden from view by the man's back.

The evidence is sufficient to suggest careful, full-scale testing of the plan before dismissing it for good and all as technically "impractical."

Thought for Today--

The integrity of the upright shall guide them; but the perverseness of transgressors shall destroy them.—Prov. 11:3

Our integrity is never worth so much as when we have parted with our all to keep it. —Colton.

Adlai Has It--If Polls Are All Wrong

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON.—Adlai Stevenson has much to look forward to if the political polls are as wrong as they were in 1948 when they predicted Thomas E. Dewey would be a winner but former President Truman beat him.

The polls being taken now mostly indicate President Eisenhower is out in front of Stevenson. But Truman, who of all people has reason not to believe in polls, says he's optimistic about the Democrats' chances.

If Stevenson hears reports — as others do — that in some states he is lagging behind the Democratic ticket, he doesn't have to worry if 1948 repeats itself.

That year Truman ran behind the Democratic ticket — congressional and gubernatorial — in most of the states where he beat Dewey.

Truman won by taking 28 of the 48 states. In 18 of those 28 he got fewer votes than the total cast for Democratic congressional candidates.

Only 21 of those 28 states elected governors that year. And five of the 21 which Truman carried elected Republican governors.

But of the 16 states which did elect Democratic governors, Truman ran behind the governors but still won.

Associated Press reporters returning to Washington from surveys of the states — where they asked people how they were going to vote — tell this story:

A group of friends, mostly members of the Business and Professional Women's Club, were entertained by Miss Rebekah Shaeffer at her rustic cabin, Shady Grove Shelter, in honor of Mrs. L. Martin, Cedar Rapids, Ia.

FORTY YEARS AGO

At a meeting of Missouri bankers of group four at the Elks' Club, a large-sized picture of many local ones was exhibited. Among the familiar faces were those of G. L. Faulhaber, O. A. Crandall, W. H. Powell, W. H. Van Wagner, Frank Shultz, W. L. Porter, Chris Hye, F. E. Hoffman, Sr., John D. Crawford, E. H. Harris, Jr., and Richard Gentry.

1916

J. R. Mouton, employed at the Missouri Pacific shops, moved his family here from Clarksburg to reside at 523 West Third.

1916

John S. McGaw returned from St. Louis where at the biennial session of the Knights of Father Mathew as representative from the St. Vincent de Paul Council, he was honored through being elected to the office of deputy chief sir knight.

Again and again those saying they would vote Republican didn't say it that way. They simply said they would vote for Eisenhower without mentioning the word "Republican."

On the other hand, again and again, people going to vote Democratic said just that, without mentioning Stevenson's name.

Even if the polls now had Stevenson in the lead, the Democratic candidate would probably worry a bit. One thing is sure: He's a natural-born worrier about his speeches.

He fusses over them endlessly, dressing them up. He does it so much that he sacrifices some play in the newspapers by giving reporters copies of his speeches very late.

Concern for every word bothers him so much he recently told newsmen that one of the biggest differences between the 1952 and 1956 campaigns is that he doesn't have as much time this year to work on his speeches.

He says too that he doesn't want to say anything which might in any way detract from the high office he seeks.

As a result he tones down the speeches prepared for him and those he writes himself until he drains away much of the fire they might have had.

He has been building up his fire a little lately, but through most of the campaign he has spoken to crowds in generalities without pin-pointing his accusations with facts and figures which would be more convincing than his generalized criticisms.

Dr. Jordan Answers--

Muscle Cramps May Be Due to Poor Circulation

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Cramps occurring in the legs at night must be quite common, since I am constantly receiving inquiries on this subject. Today's first question is an example.

Q—My husband, who is 47, has played a lot of tennis and basketball in his day. Now he is frequently awakened out of a sound sleep by cramps in his legs. What can you suggest?—Mrs. A. T.

A—I should doubt that this is related to his previous athletic history, since many people who have been much less active in their youth also develop cramps in their legs. Actually, this symptom is not restricted to middle-aged or older people, as it sometimes occurs in those who are quite young.

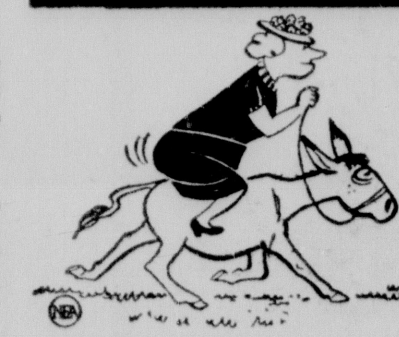

There is some uncertainty as to the exact cause. Cramps may occur when the respiration of the muscle tissue in the legs is interfered with, as the result of poor local blood-circulation. The availability of sugar to the muscle fibres and the concentration of calcium in the blood may also play a part.

What treatment to employ, therefore, depends on what can be found. Another point is that these cramps are present at night, usually when the legs are warmer than in the daytime. It is possible that if they are kept cooler at night, there would be less trouble. A few obtain relief from medication.

Q—Can arteriosclerosis be caused by a person's having Parkinson's disease? How long can a person linger with two diseases of this sort?—M.M.

A—It is more likely that the Parkinson's disease was caused by arteriosclerosis or hardening of the arteries. It is impossible to give a guess as to how long a person with arteriosclerosis and Parkinson's disease could linger. The outlook depends on the severity of the processes and other factors. Many people with one or both of these live for a long time and stay in pretty good health.

GO-GO-VOTE!

Don't burr yourself so deep you miss voting.

The Balance of Power--

But Woman's Reason In Politics Is Her Own

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty WASHINGTON.—How many women vote and for whom is not known, but politicians do know if all the women eligible to vote decided to elect a woman for president, they could do it easily because they have the power. The Census Bureau's latest estimate shows 53,652,000 women of voting age, as compared to 49,091,000 men.

The political pros ask? How many women don't vote? Is there a woman's (bloc) vote? Do they vote as their husbands do? Do the same issues influence them? Are they more apt to vote for the man rather than the party? Are they more emotional about politics?

From time to time both Katie Louchheim, the top Democratic woman, and her Republican counterpart, Bertha Adkins, agree on some of the answers.

Both are convinced that fewer women are staying home in the kitchen on election day. No, there is no "woman's vote." No, they don't wait to hear how their husbands are going to vote, but they are apt to vote the same because of the same environment.

Miss Adkins is certain women are more personal and react emotionally to issues and candidates. Remember the women who didn't like Dewey's mustache and then reacted favorably when he smartly explained, "My wife Frances likes it!"

But Katie Louchheim says the appeal of a candidate's personality is just as strong for men as for women and women are interested in all issues.

But more content women are more concerned in issues of direct bearing on the welfare of the home such as the rising cost of living which puts her household budget out of whack.

The word "politics" is still a nasty word to many women and they "don't want to get mixed up in that." So activity in party organization work is not attractive even if voting is no longer an unladylike thing to do.

Nothing is conclusive about women-in-politics, but so many are becoming well-informed on candidates and what they stand for that many a husband asks his wife's opinion before voting.

Ruth Millett Says--

Making Social Small Talk Is Not a Difficult Task

So you can't make small talk. Is this what has been keeping you from enjoying meeting new people, having a good time at parties, and getting on easy terms with others? If so, there is a new book out that can put words in your mouth.

The discussion on small talk is just a brief part of a sound book on human relations by Les Giblin. The book is much better than its title, "How to Have Confidence and Power in Dealing With People."

Don't let that "How to—" title throw you. It isn't a book of gimmicks — suddenly becoming the life of the party or the man most likely to succeed.

It's a down-to-earth book on what we human beings are like and what we want from other people.

Small Talk Is Just That

The author makes it quite clear, in his discussion of it, that small talk needn't be original or clever. He thinks what ties so many tongues is the false idea that it should be.

He says: "Small talk isn't supposed to be brilliant. Everyone is trite. Everyone engages in 'small talk' that doesn't say anything clever or significant. This sort of small talk is necessary to get the wheels turning. Once you realize this and stop being afraid of being dull, you will find that you can start a conversation, even with a perfect stranger, and you may be surprised to find that in many cases, you are saying clever and interesting things — only because you aren't trying to."

"Be willing to go through a 'warm-up' period in starting a conversation. . . . The words 'strike up a conversation' are significant. You 'strike up' a conversation just as you 'strike up' a bonfire. You do not expect to start right off with a raging fire. You strike only one little match to begin with. . . . The reason most people cannot get started talking is that they try too hard, and try to make something difficult out of it."

But read the book for yourself. It is one "How to" book you can start putting into practice the minute you finish the first chapter.

Says Man Filed False Loan Papers on Home

LOS ANGELES.—The government says Howard L. Heimbecker 31, obtained an FHA-insured home improvement loan for a home he didn't own—and used the money to fight burglary and armed robbery charges. A civil complaint against Heimbecker, last reported in San Bernardino, Calif., charged him with filing fictitious documents in January.

Sunday School Lesson Notes:

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
There is interest and fascination in setting together parallel passages in the Old and New Testaments, passages that express much the same idea or have similarities in the language or figures in which they express truth.

The similarity between such passages is not a mere coincidence.
Scientists experimenting in a certain field might be expected to attain similar results, if their methods are competent and accurate.

In the same way, searchers after truth, though their searches may be years or even centuries apart, may attain much the same essential truth.

When I read the beautiful prayer in Psalm 90:16, 17—"and establish Thou the work of our hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands establish Thou it." I turn almost instinctively to the climax of St. Paul's great 15th chapter of 1 Corinthians: "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding
in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord."

This theme of the indestructibility of the good life and of the works that flow from it has many additional parallels in the two Testaments. "Eternal," "everlasting" are ever-recurring bywords of the Bible.

There is a parallel in the expressions of the Messianic hope, the spiritual uplift and hope of the prophecies, particularly in Isaiah, and the rejoicing of those who believed that they had found the Messianic fulfillment in Jesus.

But the most striking parallel of all is between the Twenty-third Psalm, the Shepherd Psalm, and the declaration of Jesus in John 10:11, "I am the good shepherd."

As devout Jews, thoroughly familiar with their Scriptures, both Jesus and those who heard Him must inevitably have associated that declaration with the Psalm.
As a simple declaration it might have seemed the word of an im-poster making an extravagant claim for himself; but the words of Jesus, making plain the nature and mission of the Good Shepherd, make any such suggestion absurd.

The Good Shepherd fulfills in every measure what Jesus was seeking to instill into the minds of his disciples—that greatness is in service, not in self-seeking.

We are confronted at once with the statement of Jesus to the Woman of Samaria, as they spoke of the Messiah (John 4:26): "I that speak unto thee am He."

We do not know how, or when, the consciousness and conviction of His uniquely divine mission became a reality to the boy who grew up in Nazareth, but who, at 12, spoke of being about "my Fa-her's business" (Luke 2:49). We do know that in all He was, and said, and did, Jesus of Nazareth was the one supremely good. No quest for self, or place, or power ever marked His earthly life or ministry. He was, indeed, the Good Shepherd, giving His life for His sheep.

The disciples who were nearest to Him saw in Him the Messiah, the Christ, the Son of the living God.

S-C Tigers Host Jeff City's Conference Leaders Tonite

Seek Victory in Homecoming, Possible 3-Way Tie in CMC

By D. Kelly Scruton

Smith-Cotton Tigers tonight will endeavor to make their Homecoming game a successful one, one which would give them a possible three-way tie in the Central Missouri Conference. They meet the all powerful Jefferson City Jays on the gridiron at the Jennie Jaynes Stadium at 8 p.m.

A victory for the Tigers will be strictly an upset as far as the statistics go, but the Tigers this past week have been getting everything pounded into their heads that the Jays might endeavor to pull in the game as 10 plays. The locals had their "Big Letdown" last weekend in Columbia when they bowed down in defeat 18 to 0.

The game last week was nothing for the Tigers or very much conversation about. In fact, I believe they would just as soon forget all about that one. The Tigers didn't show a thing against a team which didn't appear much better than themselves. Possibly it was a lesson well earned and one which will inspire them to put everything they have into the game tonight against the Jays.

On the other hand the Jays are all steamed up the game with the Tigers is "The One" which means the Central Missouri Conference championship could fall into a three-way tie with the Tigers and Columbia. Victory for the Jays shoves the Tigers down into at least third place with Columbia second. Still one more game has to be played before that final decision and that's with Kemper Military Academy on Nov. 16.

The football players elected their Homecoming Queen, who is Miss Nan Ferguson, with Miss Barbara Kelley and Miss Linda Vedder as her attendants. The queen will be crowned at the halftime period and will reign over the Homecoming festivities.

Although rain fell on Thursday the fire department is seeing to it today to have the gridiron wet down to soften up the "concrete earth" and lay the dust.

Following a week of hard work on the hard gridiron there is little doubt that the Tigers will welcome the "softened earth" with the same going for the visitors.

Coach Ralph "Stub" Dow, whose teams have shown good football through the years and whose team has shown some real playing on several occasions this season, hopes for a perfect night. Dow will have the services of Charles Newman who was out of the lineup last Friday because of illness.

Newman's return to the backfield should put some spark in that department. But he may be suffering the loss of his regular center Dick Sklar who has been nursing a sore shoulder. Sklar, if benched because of his injury, will be replaced by Vernon Means.

Perry Fairfax, substitute guard who has been used considerably this season, is not expected to see any service. Fairfax had the misfortune of being in an automobile accident and getting a severe laceration of the right eyebrow. Stitches had to be taken and his doctor advised "no football" this week.

The starting lineup for tonight: Smith-Cotton Pos. Jefferson City L. Shepherd LE Alex Willis Dan Reed LT Bob Mankin Bill McDowell LG Paul Spicer or Dick Sklar or Joe Case Vernon Means C B. Hanrahan Tom Boehm or Art Bethke RG Charles Ray Edward Hall RT S. Kirschman Roger Gates RE B. ### Valdes Hopes Victory Will Bring Chance At Heavyweight Title

BOSTON (AP) — Nino Valdes today was hopeful his latest knock-out triumph would push him back into consideration for a heavyweight championship fight.

Valdes, the Cuban clubber, knocked out young, hopeful Bob Woodall of Boston at 2:51 of the third round last night. Valdes, weighing 210 to Woodall's 213, had sent his opponent to the canvas three times in the second round.

Previously, Valdes had been on the threshold of a title shot when he lost a close decision to then challenger Archie Moore. Since then, he has been on the outside looking in.

Last Chance at Army--

Saturday's Football Games May End Chances for Some

The Associated Press

Lou Little gets his last chance to upset an Army football team tomorrow, Jon Arnett plays his last game for Southern California and there may be a few other "lasts" on the middle Saturday of this odd football season.

The season may have ended for South Carolina yesterday, in fact, Clemson handed the Gamecocks their first Atlantic Coast Conference defeat, 7-0, and took over the lead in the run for the Orange Bowl.

Clemson, unbeaten but tied by Florida in five games, now is 3-0 in the ACC, thanks to busy Charlie Bussey. The Tiger quarterback plunged for a first down that set up his first-period touchdown plunge, then converted and finally recovered an end zone fumble that halted a South Carolina bid in the final 13 minutes.

Little, Columbia's veteran coach, has made a specialty of getting undermanned teams ready to score upsets and his special victim has been Army and Coach Earl Blaik. Columbia did it in 1947, ending a 32-game Army winning streak and pulled out a 14-14 tie five years later.

Little is retiring at the end of his 27th season as Columbia coach and because of Ivy League schedule commitments, the Columbia Army series ends with Saturday's game. So it's Lou's last chance.

Arnett is one of the principal victims of the Pacific Coast Conference eligibility ruling which limited certain seniors to five games this season. The ruling grew out of disclosures that some players had received more than legal financial aid and the refusal of the colleges to give names.

The swift, skilled Southern California back has been a standout in four victories that have earned USC the No. 6 national ranking. After playing against Stanford, he'll have to hang up his uniform.

It's an important last game, since the teams are tied in the Pacific Coast Conference with 2-0 records, just behind UCLA.

Another of the season's oddities comes today when Oklahoma A&M and Kansas clash. Originally scheduled for Saturday, the game was shoved up when fans began to show too much interest in the nationally televised Saturday struggle between Oklahoma and Notre Dame. It probably is the first time two major teams have had to play second fiddle to a 24-inch tube.

Oklahoma likely will be out to regain its No. 1 national ranking Saturday at the expense of Notre Dame, which was battered by Michigan State last week. The first-place Spartans meeting a comparatively weak rival, Illinois.

The only head-to-head meeting between two teams ranked in the first 10 also finds the Southwest Conference lead at St. Louis, Texas A&M, No. 7, plays Baylor, No. 8, with the Aggies favored mainly because a lot of Baylor players suffered food poisoning during the week.

Would Be 100th Victory--

Missouri Tigers Expect To Win Iowa State Game

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A healthy quarterback and a second string fullback plus a host of promising sophomores expect to sack Iowa State tomorrow for Coach Don Faurot's 100th victory at Missouri.

Faurot is in his 19th year at the helm of Missouri's football fortunes and his last as head coach. He plans to step down at the end of the season to concentrate on his job as athletic director.

The Big Seven Conference leader, Colorado, plays Nebraska at Boulder in the only other league game this weekend.

Kansas meets Oklahoma A & M at Stillwater today, Kansas State goes to Wyoming and Oklahoma to Notre Dame tomorrow for inter-sectional games.

Missouri has racked up a 99-77-9 record under Faurot and has generally been a leading contender for conference honors.

The 1955 season was the most dismal under Faurot. Crippled by injuries and hampered by inexperience, the Tigers won only one of 10 games.

One of those on the ailing list last year was quarterback Jim Hunter, a strong runner and a better than average passer.

Jim is back this year in good health and the Tigers behind his field generalship have given a good account of themselves in posting a 2-3 record. He leads the conference in passing with 17 completions out of 38 attempts for 183 yards.

George Cramer, a 5-8, 180 pound senior fullback on the second string moved to the first unit this year after injuries sidelined veteran Gene Roll.

Cramer has taken over as the top rusher for the Tigers with 227 yards on 47 carries.

Halfbacks Charley James and Hank Kuhlman, sophomores, are close on his heels.

Kuhlman has packed the ball 40 times for 196 yards and James 33 times for 192.

James also leads the conference in pass receiving with 15 receptions for 171 yards.

Kuhlman also has been effective as a receiver with 73 yards on 5 passes.

The Tiger line, sprinkled liberally with sophomores and juniors, has turned in a good performance.

Iowa State upset the Tigers last year 20-14.

Missouri holds a 26-16-6 series edge over the Cyclones.

John Landy Has Battle Against Time

MELBOURNE (AP) — John Landy, the world's best miler against a clock, is racing against time again. But now it's a calendar, not a stopwatch, he has to beat.

With less than a month to go before the 1956 Olympic Games open here, Landy still is undecided about entering. He's been hobbled by a foot injury and has done little competitive running since his last assault on the 4-minute mile, in the United States last summer.

Bruised heel tendons scratched Landy, holder of the 3:58 mile record, from the Australian Olympic track trials, but he was named to the team in both the 1,500 and 5,000 meters. (There is no mile run on the Olympic program.)

With the long layoff, Landy needs trial competition now that he is able to run again. But these trials were banned early in the week.

The ban, set to prevent a "thousand little Olympic games in the month ahead," was met by strong protests from Australian and British runners. Yesterday, the ban was lifted, giving Landy his chance.

While the track entries were winning their protest against the ban, workmen were putting the finishing touches on an "overnight" construction job—the $100,000 basketball hall.

Olympic officials at first had thought to stage the basketball competition in a privately owned arena—until they found out the rental would be $45,000. That shock came in late July, and in early August a contract was signed for construction of an added entry to the Olympic buildings.

Work started early this month, and yesterday workmen were laying the wooden cover on the concrete floor of the steel igloo-like structure. The hall will seat 3,000—and all seats for the finals and semifinals are sold.

Other backs cited were Missouri's sophomore twosome of Charlie James and Hank Kuhlman and Tiger quarterback Jim Hunter; Kansas Bob Marshall, quarterback converted to halfback for the Oklahoma game; Jerry Brown, Nebraska fullback and Howard Cook, Colorado tailback.

Although they played with the losing team, Kansas center Frank Black and end Jim Letcavits were highly praised among the linemen.

Other linemen getting mention were Jerry Leahy, Colorado end; Jim Martin, Missouri guard; Bob Lewis, Kansas guard; Bob Tomberlake, end, and Joe Oujesky, guard, Oklahoma; Jim Murphy, guard, and Laverne Torczon, tackle, Nebraska; Bruce Bierig, wood, Oklahoma A&M guard; center Max Black of Tulsa; Ellis Rainsberger, Kansas State center, and Andris Pocius, Iowa State guard.

Jack Kemp of Occidental is the forward passing leader with 32 completions in 102 attempts, while Tom Rheelee of American International has caught the most passes, 23.

Rusty Addleman, College of Emporia, ranks fourth in rushing with 575 yards in 5 games.

North Carolina State has 20 lettermen on its 1956 football team.

Baker Gains All-America Consideration

KANSAS CITY (AP)—David Baker, a 175-pound sophomore from Bartlesville, Okla., edged up into the All America football reckoning in the opinion of members of the Midlands All America football board this week.

The board of sportswriters and broadcasters cited rookie Baker for his work in Oklahoma's 34-12 Big Seven-Conference victory over Kansas last Saturday.

Operating with the second unit, the 19-year-old Baker scored one touchdown, passed for one six-pointer and made two conversions while putting life into the otherwise sluggish Sooners.

Also cited by the nominating board was big John (The Beast) Bayuk, 223 pound fullback, who scored three touchdowns as Colorado swamped Iowa State 52-0. Bayuk, a senior, made 145 yards on 19 rushes, picking up more yards than Iowa State in total offense.

Other backs cited were Missouri's sophomore twosome of Charlie James and Hank Kuhlman and Tiger quarterback Jim Hunter; Kansas Bob Marshall, quarterback converted to halfback for the Oklahoma game; Jerry Brown, Nebraska fullback and Howard Cook, Colorado tailback.

Although they played with the losing team, Kansas center Frank Black and end Jim Letcavits were highly praised among the linemen.

Other linemen getting mention were Jerry Leahy, Colorado end; Jim Martin, Missouri guard; Bob Lewis, Kansas guard; Bob Tomberlake, end, and Joe Oujesky, guard, Oklahoma; Jim Murphy, guard, and Laverne Torczon, tackle, Nebraska; Bruce Bierig, wood, Oklahoma A&M guard; center Max Black of Tulsa; Ellis Rainsberger, Kansas State center, and Andris Pocius, Iowa State guard.

Casey Stengel, a wonderful man who has perfected the oratorical double reverse with a split infinitive and flanker adjective, is duly grateful and honored to be voted the American League Manager of the Year.

He said so today at his home in Glendale, where he is resting up after leading the New York Yankees to their sixth World Series triumph and seventh pennant in his eight years with the club.

Casey scored a lopsided victory in the annual Associated Press poll of members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America — 164 of the 207 votes. This was 150 more than his rival for the honor, Paul Richards of the Baltimore Orioles.

Casey asked again for the vote and when it was repeated, he grinned from ear to ear.

"I'm going to a dinner tonight and I want to know if I can tell 'em I'm a big man."

Richards polled 14 votes. Marty Marion, who parted company with the Chicago White Sox last night, collected 13 votes. Bucky Harris, late of the Detroit Tigers, had 10, and Al Lopez, also late of the Cleveland Indians, had 4. Pinky Higgins, Manager of the Year in 1955 with the Boston Red Sox, got 2.

Lopez Seems Apt to Win Marion's Job

CHICAGO (AP) — There was a wave of speculation today as to Marty Marion's successor as manager of the Chicago White Sox but the No. 1 candidate appeared to be Al Lopez.

Marion resigned yesterday after a conference at Comiskey Park with Vice President Chuck Comiskey and other Sox brass.

"They were not happy with my work," said Marty, who moved up from the Sox coaching ranks to replace Paul Richards as Sox skipper Sept. 14, 1954.

There was little doubt that the 39-year-old former St. Louis Cardinal star shortstop stepped down under pressure.

"There were some statements made during the season by Chuck Comiskey that 'White Sox material was excellent' and that I was doing a 'credible job,'" said Marion. "Their remarks always were just lukewarm. They never gave me a solid vote of confidence. Actually, I believe I did a good job (the Sox finished third both years under Marion). In fact, I'm proud of the job I did."

Marion, who was the 13th Sox manager since the club last won the pennant in 1919, said he had no definite plans but wanted to remain in baseball. He left Chicago immediately for his St. Louis home.

Marion agreed to resign only after he was assured he would be paid in full for the year remaining in his contract—paid even if he lands another job.

The Sox also will request that all four of Marion's coaches resign—Ray Berres, Don Gutteridge, Del Wilber and George Myatt.

Comiskey said that "at least six or seven fellows" will be considered for the job. While Lopez, who resigned last month as pilot of the Cleveland Indians, would be given consideration he is not necessarily the leading candidate.

Stengel Is Grateful To Be Named League Manager of the Year

Chooses Own Broadway Play For TV

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—One of the interesting things about one of the better things available on television this weekend is the fact that Garson Kanin, author and director of "Born Yesterday," has chosen that Broadway success for his television debut.

"Born Yesterday," starring Mary Martin and Paul Douglas, will be seen on Hallmark Hall of Fame (NBC-TV) Sunday night in both color and black and white.

At this writing Kanin's status on the program—whether to be listed as director or producer—is up in the air. The Radio and Television Directors Guild says the director's credit should go to one of its members, George Schaefer. But whatever his title on the program, Kanin has been active in directing his work.

Kanin, a slight, mild-mannered, articulate man, is renowned as one of the most creative minds in the theater and motion pictures. Why, then, has he finally decided to try his talents in television?

"It's not a question of how one feels about television," he said. "Television is a fact upon us and those of us in the business of story-telling, the business of communicating ideas and entertainment, have to come to grips with it."

"One who has worked in the theater and motion pictures has adopted his own ways of doing things. Any new form is likely to throw you unless you throw it. There is no question in my mind but that one who writes or directs must come to grips with all methods of literary communication."

"I look like a middle-aged man, but I think of myself as a growing boy. That's why I am trying television."

Kanin hopes to do more television work—"the next time helping to create something specifically for the medium."

Gordon Macrae Has Answer For Tension

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Gordon Macrae has his own prescription for release from nervous tension: Sing!

It's as simple as that. Forget the tranquilizers and self-help books. Just sing.

"I'll never forget one day when I was a kid, I was singing on my way home," he recalled. "My dad was on the porch and he heard me singing all the way down the block. He told me, 'Son, as long as you can sing like that nothing can ever bother you.'"

"I've always remembered that when I work too hard and things start getting tense, I start singing. It seems to clear my mind and give me strength."

"Most people sing in the bathtub or the shower. Why? Because they feel good; they're getting a fresh, clean start on the day. If they would sing at other times too I think they could retain that attitude."

He cited his idol Bing Crosby as an example of the therapeutic value of song. One of Hollywood's most relaxed men, Bing is always bursting into song, largely for his own amusement. Another off-stage singer is Perry Como. You can't get much more relaxed than Perry and remain conscious.

But you don't need the vocal talent of a Crosby or Como, Macrae agreed. Anybody can do it.

"The trouble is that we've gotten out of the habit of singing," he said. "I suppose that's because we have so much radio and television to listen to. There isn't enough quiet in the house to provide time to sing."

May Appeal Court Ruling In Hoxie Case

ST. LOUIS, (AP) — An appeals court ruling that administrators have a "federal right to be free from direct and deliberate interference" in desegregating public schools may be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The three-judge Federal Court of Appeals made its ruling yesterday, upholding a permanent injunction prohibiting segregationist groups from interfering with integration in the Hoxie, Ark., public schools.

The appeals court upheld a District Court finding that their campaign was marked by intimidation, acts of terrorism and threats of violence.

The decision is expected to help determine the government's course of action in school integration trouble spots throughout the country. The government called it a test case and said it had "nationwide impact."

James D. Johnson of Crossett, Ark., lawyer and one of the defendants, said "every effort will be made" to appeal the ruling.

But Amis Guthridge of Little Rock, also an attorney and defendant, said, "The financial angle may keep us from appealing further. We're in the unfortunate position of not having the Department of Justice to fight our battles for us."

The appeals court decision came in what the government had picked as its first formal court intervention since the 1954-55 Supreme Court desegregation mandates.

"The principles enunciated by the Supreme Court in the school segregation cases are binding upon plaintiffs in this case, as well as on all other school boards or school officials administering public school programs," the appeals court said.

"For in practical effect, the rights and duties of not only the immediate parties to the cases before the Supreme Court were at issue but also the rights and duties of all others similarly situated."

The decision was against White America, Inc., the White Citizens Council of Arkansas, the Citizens Committee Representing Segregation in the Hoxie Schools and four individuals who had fought desegregation there.

Patrolman Gives Brother a Ticket

PASSAIC, N.J. (AP) — Patrolman Anthony Massaro told the judge that when he ticketed a parked car recently he "thought it looked familiar."

The car belongs to his brother, Salvatore Massaro, who was fined $5 and had to pay $5 costs in municipal court.

Tiff With Idol Of Teen-agers Cost His Job

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The man who got an Elvis Presley fist in the face was looking for a new job today — fired because of his battle with the teen-agers' rock 'n' roll idol hurt business.

The fist fight with Presley also cost 42-year-old Edd Hopper a black eye, a $2 fine and left him with a slight ringing in his ears — the aftermath of telephone calls from a horde of irate Presley fans.

Clarence Harwell, owner of the service station where Hopper was manager, said he fired Hopper yesterday but let him "stay on a few days until he can line up another job."

"I asked Harwell not to fire the man," said Presley. "The man has a family. It was just one of those things. We regret it, but it's too late."

Harwell said business at the station had fallen off drastically since the week-old incident. He called at the Presley home yesterday to apologize for the fracas.

Hopper declined comment. He got his black eye Oct. 18 at the filling station after becoming irate because a crowd drawn by Presley and his $11,175 car was blocking business at the gas pumps.

Witnesses at the court hearing said Hopper reached inside the auto, slapped Presley on the back of his ducktail haircut, and snapped, "I said 'move on.'" The singer came out swinging.

Siamese Twins May Have Same Heart

OXNARD, Calif. (AP)—Results of an electrocardiograph taken of Siamese twin girls born last Monday "strongly suggest" they have a common heart, says a doctor.

This would rule out any chance of surgically separating the twins, he added. They are joined from neck to abdomen.

The physician described their condition as poor.

Adlai Ready For Demo 'Task Force'

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson sought new Democratic converts in the Midwestern Farm Belt today with a promise to set up a Democratic "task force" to devise a new agricultural program for early action by Congress.

The Democratic presidential nominee said that, if elected, he will create the "task force" under Sen. Estes Kefauver, his vice-presidential running mate, and put it to work immediately after the election.

That proposal was made in Springfield, Ill., last night where a crowd of close to 5,000 cheered him and booed his mention of the names of Vice President Nixon and Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

He attributed to Eisenhower "a record of calloused political perfidy" on farm promises and said the GOP President has compounded ed "deceit with self-righteous hypocrisy."

He said he will ask Chairman Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee and Rep. Cooley (D-Mo.), who heads a similar House committee, to serve on the farm task force with Kefauver and others he will name, if elected.

He sought to dramatize the decision by announcing the task force plan both in his Springfield speech and in a statement preceding his talk at the close of a "Farm Day" conference there.

"One reason the Eisenhower administration has been so slow in getting things done," he said in the statement, "is that when it came into office, the President started calling for studies instead of action."

Then, to the enthusiastic near-capacity crowd in the armory, he said that, if elected:

"I propose to explore at once

'Pledges' Won Their Votes in '52--

Adlai Says Ike Broke Promises to Farmers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 25 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson contended tonight that President Eisenhower has broken the promises he made to farmers to win their vote in 1952.

Stevenson said that Eisenhower had told the farmers they would have their prices supported at 90 per cent of parity.

Miller Says He Supports Security Plan

GOP Also Answers Moulder's Charge Of Truth Distortion

George H. Miller, Republican candidate for Congress from the 11th District, in reply to a challenge last week by incumbent Democrat Congressman Morgan Moulder to declare his stand on the mutual security program, said Wednesday night, "I have always stated my whole-hearted support of this program."

The statement was made during a speech Miller made at both Green Ridge and LaMonte Republican rallies that evening.

Miller also said that he would continue to discuss Moulder's record, according to the requirement stipulated by the campaign practice code of fair play.

Answering Moulder's charge that Miller distorted the truth in an earlier attack on Moulder's record, Miller declared, "Mr. Moulder knows better, because the truth is what scares him. Every charge that I have made about his voting record is taken directly from the daily Congressional Record of the United States Congress, and I will be happy to furnish Mr. Moulder or anyone else with the date and page of that Congressional Record upon which his record is written."

Referring to his support of the mutual security program, Miller said, "It is by this program that we have kept the peace and security of the free world. Less than five per cent of the taxes we pay to the federal government goes into this program, and I say this is a small price indeed to pay to keep the free nations in a position to protect themselves from Communist aggression."

In his speech last week Moulder termed as "outrageous" Miller's statement that on May 3, 1956, Moulder had voted "against the farmer." Miller said Wednesday night that Moulder's claim that a motion on President Eisenhower's request to make advance payments to those in soil bank program was not made on that date was itself distortion of the truth.

Miller stated, "The motion (Please turn to page 8, column 3)

Eyewitness Report on Budapest

By ENDRE MARTON

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 25 (AP)—Parliament Square in Budapest became a battlefield shortly after noon today when a Russian tank opened fire on a few thousand peaceful demonstrators whose only weapons were Hungarian flags.

Reports from other parts of the capital told similar stories.

The situation was more than confused this morning. It was thought that resistance of the rebels gradually withered away though one could hear sporadic shooting with both small arms and artillery throughout the night.

This dispatch from the AP correspondent in Budapest was received in somewhat skeletonized form. It was the first direct word from the AP bureau at Budapest since Tuesday night.

It turned out that last night's shooting was more than a mopping up operation.

At 10 a. m. a crowd of about 2,000 men and women, waving flags and shouting, "This is a peaceful demonstration," passed in front of the United States legation toward the nearby Parliament building, with beaming faces. The marchers waved their hats and some shouted:

"Why don't you help us?"

Then an amazing thing happened. Two huge Russian tanks and an armored car drove up—packed with young Hungarians fraternizing with the Russian soldiers. All were smiling uneasily.

Other tanks and also a number of Russian guns were of the huge gothic Parliament building.

Demonstrators sent a three-member delegation into the building, which houses the Prime Ministry.

While waiting the return of their delegation, they shouted slogans such as "Down with Geroe" and "Release Our Prisoners." Ernoe Geroe was ousted Thursday as first secretary of the Communist party in Hungary.

The Russians remained friendly but kept away from the crowd and prevented demonstrators from reaching a gate leading to the Prime Ministry.

I took cover in a doorway and looking out saw a tank firing wildly.

Then three armored cars drove up packed with Russian soldiers, but they aimed their guns toward the sky before they fired.

How many became the victims? (Please turn to page 8, column 3)

Russian Satellites Stirred by Revolts

Other Soviet-Controlled Nations Become Restless Amid Rebellions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tito-like declarations of independence from Moscow by two new Communist regimes within a week in Eastern Europe stirred other Soviet satellites yesterday.

Alert in East Reich

East German Communists took an alarmed look at the political overturn in Poland and the bloody revolt in Hungary and disclosed through their official newspaper that Communist militia in the factories, called "fighting groups," had been put on the alert. These groups have been issued weapons, but pictures of them in the East German press showed them without their arms.

Czech Communists announced in broadcasts that flying squads of party functionaries were scurrying from mass meeting to mass meeting to "explain the events in Poland and Hungary to our population." One broadcast said the upheavals and talk about "Titoist creeds" meant Czechoslovakia also could practice communism according to its "special needs."

Apparent Chinese Approval

Poland and Hungary might as well have been on the moon so far as Red China's voluminous newscasts were concerned. Hong Kong listening posts said the Peiping radio had not once mentioned the violent independence - from - Russia movements in Europe.

If the silence continued much longer it would be almost a sure sign of Red China's tacit approval of the development. Polish sources in Warsaw have claimed they received encouragement from Chou En-tai, Red China's premier and foreign minister, for their movement demanding equality with Moscow in choosing their own "road to socialism."

Soviet Seen in Dilemma

For the first time, Russians learned from their newspapers that a revolt had broken out in Hungary and that Russian troops had been called out to put it down. Pravda and Izvestia called it a "counter-revolutionary, reactionary revolt" but made no other comment.

In the West, the events were seen as placing the Soviet Union in a difficult dilemma. President Eisenhower issued a statement in New York saying the United States "deplores the intervention of Soviet military forces" in Hungary.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer told a visiting group of Austrian newsmen the uprisings may force the Kremlin to make a major revision of its policy in Eastern Europe.

Decide Closing Hours--

Retail Merchants Set Date For the Christmas Parade

A meeting of the retail merchants was held Thursday at 10:30 a. m. in the assembly room of the courthouse, at which time it was decided to have the Christmas parade this year on Saturday, Dec. 1. Ed Kehde is again chairman of the parade and the starting hour will be announced later.

The meeting was presided over by Harry Naugel, director of the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce, and a report on the recent meeting of the committee on store hours was given by Al Zurcher, Jr., general chairman of the retail committee.

The plan for the Christmas closing hours as presented by Zurcher was accepted by the merchants present. The plan follows: the stores will be open on Monday night, Dec. 3, in addition to the regular Friday night that week, Dec. 7. The next week the stores will be open on Monday night, Dec. 10, in addition to the regular Friday night, Dec. 14, and on the week preceding Christmas the stores will be open four nights: Monday, Dec. 17; Thursday, Dec. 20; Friday, Dec. 21; and Saturday, Dec. 22. The stores will close at the regular time, 5:30, on Christmas Eve. The merchants felt this would be a better plan than having the stores open every night the week before Christmas and would also give an extra shopping night.

Cline Cain, chairman of the Christmas decorations committee, stated that because of the plans sometime in the future for a change in the lighting system in the downtown area, it was not advisable to consider the overhead decorations for across the streets at this time and that for another year they would continue the individual decorations of the stores. He urged that the decorations be put up as high as possible. (Please turn to page 8, column 2)

H-Testing 'Not the Issue'--

Ike Sees It Most Important To Keep H-Bombs Out of War

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower said tonight "the compelling challenge before the world is not the matter of testing" H-bombs and other atomic weapons, "but of making impossible their use in any atomic war."

Hitting again at the call of Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, for the United States to take the lead in seeking world agreement to ban hydrogen bomb testing, the President said he wanted to:

"Reiterate—as we constantly do—America's instant readiness to lay aside all nuclear weapons—including this testing—when, but only when, we have sure safeguards that others will do the same."

Cites Russian Balk

Eisenhower has said all along that this country cannot now join in any ban on testing because Russia has refused to agree to what he regards as adequate safeguards.

Tonight, in a nationwide television-radio address prepared for a Madison Square Garden rally, the President said:

"The compelling challenge before the world is not the matter of testing nuclear weapons—but of

Nationally Known Race Driver--

Smith-Cotton Students Receive Safe Driving Tips From Expert

Students at the Smith-Cotton High School received safe driving tips from an expert Thursday when Johnnie Parsons, nationally known race driver and the "500" winner at the Indianapolis Speedway in 1950, when he appeared before the general assembly. He was the speaker on the "Highway Safety" program.

Parsons' appearance at the high school assembly is part of an educational highway safety program being sponsored by the Champion Spark Plug Co., Toledo, O., in support of the accident prevention campaign of the National Safety Council. Arrangements for the local program at Smith-Cotton were made by the Johns Auto Supply, Inc.

Parsons has been associated with racing for 16 years, starting in midgets on the West Coast in 1940. Two years later he was the midget champion. He began campaigning in the Midwest in 1947 and a year later was again midget champion. His first Indianapolis race was in 1949 and he finished second. Following his victory in 1950, he was forced out of four succeeding races by mechanical difficulties. This year, he finished

Rebel, Soviet Forces Clash

Bodies of Thousands Cover Streets of Hungarian Cities

VIENNA, Friday, Oct. 26 (AP)—Fighting raged through a third night in flaming Budapest between Soviet troops and Hungarian anti-Communists backed by some Hungarian soldiers and tanks.

Eyewitnesses estimated several thousand Hungarian rebels against Soviet domination were killed in three days of violent street fighting in Budapest and other big cities and in the provinces.

All Budapest hospitals were crowded with wounded.

The government strove desperately to end the rebellion, announcing it was ready to seek withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary if the rebels lay down their arms.

Budapest radio said a new government would be formed of all "Democratic parties"—the Communists and their fronts.

New Leader Is Named

The Hungarian Communist party shook up its leadership, naming a new first secretary apparently on orders of Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.

Mikoyan flew to Budapest yesterday, just as he had gone to Warsaw to cope with the Polish outbreak last week.

Mikoyan and M. A. Guslov, Moscow's expert on East European affairs, left Budapest later, supposedly returning to Moscow.

Soviet troops bore the brunt of the fighting, not only in Budapest but in the cities of Győr, Szeged, Szolnok, Pécs and elsewhere. Witnesses said streets of the cities were covered with bodies.

Many reports said army units and local police joined revolutionary committees set up by the rebels.

Battleground in Square

Budapest's parliament square became a battleground yesterday when a Soviet tank and Hungarian secret police fired on 2,000 peaceful demonstrators.

Rioters Are Pro-Western

Marton said about 2,000 enthusiastic citizens gathered in front of the building and cheered whenever an army officer appeared on the balconies.

The officers threw down leaflets signed by the "new temporary revolutionary government defense committee." The leaflet said: "We solemnly swear over the bodies of our martyrs that the case of Hungarian independence and freedom will conquer."

The demonstrators were as outspokenly pro-Western as they were anti-Russian and anti-Communist. At one point crowds massed at the U. S. and British legations.

They dispersed when U. S. Charge d'Affaires Spencer Barnes and British Minister L. A. C. Fry assured them they had sent reports of events in Hungary to their governments.

Marton reported that when fighting broke out in Parliamentary Square the only weapons of the demonstrators were Hungarian flags.

Living Costs Hit New High In September

Announcement Stirs Campaign Argument Anew on 'Prosperity'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—The nation's living costs hit a new high in mid-September the government announced today. This stirred up new campaign arguments over the well-being of the people.

President Eisenhower, taking note of the rise reported by the Labor Department, called attention to another department finding that take-home pay of the average factory worker also is at a record level. This report said the amount of goods and services such workers could buy with their earnings was the highest on record for the month of September.

There are about 17 million factory workers, out of a total of 66 million persons employed in the country.

'Losing Control of Climb'

While Eisenhower said factory workers have made gains in purchasing power, James B. Carey, president of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, said the living cost climb "demonstrates that the government is losing control of the situation."

In S-C Cafeteria November 8--

Daniel Blount to Talk At Chamber Dinner

Daniel R. Blount

Daniel R. Blount of St. Louis will be the speaker at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet to be held Nov. 8 at 6:45 p. m. at the Smith-Cotton High School cafeteria.

Blount is a forceful and convincing speaker and his messages are driven home with a sincerity that captivates, yet his ability at telling stories adds much humor to his talks. He is intensely interested in civic and community welfare and is in constant demand as a speaker before service clubs, chambers of commerce, business and professional men's and women's groups and schools over a wide area. However, his first interest is in men and their development, and he gains his greatest satisfaction from working with them and their problems. He is an eternal optimist, who has the happy faculty of being able to inspire and challenge the best in men and women.

For more than 30 years Blount has been associated with the International Shoe Co., and most of his time during recent years has been spent in industrial and public relations work.

All of the 600 tickets to the banquet have been sold. The capacity seating of the Smith-Cotton High School cafeteria is 600, so it was necessary to limit the number of tickets to that number.

A feature again this year of the banquet will be the "loot bags" which will be filled with gifts, samples and souvenirs of various firms who each year order special "gimmicks" for the affair as a way of advertising. Anyone wishing to contribute to the "loot bags" is asked to notify the Chamber of Commerce at once so that they may know what to plan on. Twenty-four firms have already listed their gifts.

From Middle East to Milk Price--

Election Scene in New York Is Jumble of Political Ideas

By REILMAN MORIN
NEW YORK (AP) — The election scene in New York is a welter of political crosscurrents.

They stem from problems as far apart as policy in the Middle East and prices for milk.

A sampling of opinion in the cities, the villages, on the farms, indicates these are the main outlines of the picture at this point:

1. The Republicans.
President Eisenhower won the state's 45 electoral votes by 848,000 votes, or 56 per cent of the total, in 1952. His upstate margin easily outweighed the loss of New York City by 350,000.

Update today, his popularity seems holding at a high level generally. You hear few criticisms of Eisenhower, or expressions of concern about his ability to fill another term.

2. The Democrats.
Adlai Stevenson drew big crowds in recent appearances in New York City, and they seemed to respond more warmly to him than in 1952. His running mate Sen. Estes Kefauver has been campaigning more widely upstate. About the outlook there, Democratic spokesmen say they feel encouraged. One asserted, "Eisenhower won't get a million - vote edge upstate this time."

3. The issues.
No single one seems to be exerting a statewide pull. In New York City, GOP candidates are questioned sharply about foreign policy, arms for Israel, the Suez, immigration laws, and to a lesser degree, "hard" money and housing. Upstate, many dairy farmers criticize Secretary of Agriculture Benson, but not Eisenhower. They express no deep feelings on other questions. The "small man versus big business" argument is helping the Democrats.

Campaign fever seems to be running highest in New York City.
Party headquarters are bustling. Volunteer organizations have workers stationed all over the city. There has been considerable placarding and doorbell ringing. Upstate, things are quieter. There have been reports of widespread disaffection among the dairy farmers because of a squeeze between cost and producer prices for milk.

Questioning uneasily criticism in the dairy regions, but whether it will switch many votes is a different question.

One farmer said, "It doesn't make any difference which administration is in, so far as milk prices are concerned. I voted Republican before and I expect to again."

The owner of a general store in a Dairy Belt village said, "People around here seem satisfied. I know because I cash their checks. Most of them vote straight Republican."

An official of a dairyman's organization said, "They (the farmers) haven't anything against Ike, but they sure are sore at Benson."

Another official commented, however, "Ike's going to lose some farmers who are Democrats but switched over to him in 1952."

One big election crosscurrent developed in Harlem, big Negro district in New York City, predominantly Democratic.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., Negro Democrat who represents Harlem, announced last week he will support Eisenhower. He said he approved Eisenhower's stand on civil rights, and that the nation's Negro groups had been snubbed by Stevenson.

Democrats denounced Powell as a "turncoat."

Earlier, the Amsterdam News, Negro newspaper, had come out in support of Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits, Republican, who is in a neck-and-neck race with New York City's Mayor Robert F. Wagner, Democrat, for the U.S. senate.

This also was over the civil rights issue. The paper has not yet endorsed a presidential candidate. But Editor James Hicks said "We say his (Eisenhower's) civil rights record is a best seller."

The State Federation of Labor, with 1 1/2 million members, voted to support Wanger. An official said it was the first time in 20 years the federation endorsed a senatorial candidate.

Rev. Gilbert Hulme Tells Story of His Musical Saw

The Rev. Gilbert Hulme, who is leading the song service at the revival of East Sedalia Baptist Church, Thursday night told the story of his musical saw. Rev. Hulme, pastor of Memorial Baptist Church, Pettis County, is a talented vocalist, choir director and instrumentalist with an ordinary saw. He is a graduate of the High School of Sacred Music, and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Tex. He has also done some study in England and Germany.

In his story, Rev. Hulme mentioned that his saw is probably the only one in the world that is dedicated to the Lord to do His service and the only saw that has had an act of Congress passed upon it. His saw has probably been more places and provided more services than any other saw. The ordinary saw holds a special meaning because Jesus, being a carpenter, surely owned a saw and used it for many constructive purposes.

During World War II, strict regulations were made concerning possessions to be carried to the front battle lines. An act of Congress was passed upon Rev. Hulme's saw giving him permission to carry it anywhere, anytime, and there on the battle field he played sweet music for the wounded soldiers to give them peace of heart.

Another incident happened in a German city that had been bombed, and the frightened German people hovered in the crumpled buildings afraid to come out into the open. As the soldiers sang hymns and as Rev. Hulme played on his saw, the pitiful ones were lured outside to hear the music—a common language that all people speak and understand. While sailing deep in the Atlantic Ocean during a fierce storm, and as the ships rolled upon the rough waters, Hulme played "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and he stated that it had the same effect as when Jesus said, "Peace Be Still."

The saw is a common instrument of service, Rev. Hulme's particular saw was used to help build a church, and he said that the more a saw is used the more musical it becomes. He concluded his story by playing "When They Ring Those Golden Bells For You and Me."

Used in B-47 Bombers--

New Liquid Oxygen Plant In Operation at Whiteman

A collection of complex machinery, tremendous noise, and intense heat is the scene of the new $150,000 plant in which liquid oxygen is produced for use in the 340th Bombardment Wing's B-47's. The plant began operation late last month.

The liquid oxygen plant, located on the south corner of the base is manned by a crew of 14 men under the supervision of S. Sgt. Frank T. Evers and his assistant, S. Sgt. Joseph T. Clairborne. These 16 men needed only 30 days to completely assemble the newly arrived equipment and begin full production.

Operating around the clock, seven days a week the liquid oxygen section supplies the bomb squadrons with more than 200 gallons of pure oxygen daily.

producing its own oxygen supply, it was necessary to ship it in at great expense from Kansas City.

To produce liquid oxygen, the plant begins the process with nothing but ordinary air which is put through a series of filters and compressors. The air is then treated with potassium hydroxide, a water soluble salt, that absorbs the carbon dioxide content of the air.

When the air is free of carbon dioxide, it is then subjected to a second series of compressors, drivers and lastly, refrigerators where it is cooled down to a minus 150 degrees Fahrenheit under a pressure of 3,000 pounds per square inch.

The next step is the fractional distillation of the new liquid product. Nitrogen and the small percentage of rare and idle gases are "boiled off" and through chemical processes, the end product is almost pure oxygen in the liquid form.

Lastly, the liquid oxygen is tested for purity and is ready for use.

Since liquid oxygen combines readily with all hydrocarbons, any gasoline, oil or grease coming in contact with the product will result in a violent explosion, making it necessary for Sergeant Evers and his crew to be constantly alert.

This is another of the little known operations of the base vitally important to the mission of the 340th Bombardment Wing.

Whiteman Air Force Base is the home of the 340th Bomb Wing, an Eighth Air Force installation of the Strategic Air Command. Eighth Air Force has its headquarters at Westover Air Force Base, Massachusetts, and is made up of all SAC bases in the mid-western and northeastern states of the country.

Mrs. L. Heimsoth told that the three junior 4-H leaders, Linda Turner, Priscilla Ellis and Carolyn Ryan attended the Bob White Camp and reported the time profitable and interesting.

The club's record of achievement bearing the gold star was proudly shown. Only 11 clubs with the grade above 95 per cent received a gold star.

Mrs. John Kelley then spoke on "Family Income" and "Money Responsibility." She stressed the importance of setting aside a certain amount and making a spending plan to be followed as nearly as possible in order to keep on a solvent basis. She also passed out false and true test questions on life insurance so each could grade themselves.

Mrs. Ralph Frame, reading chairman, presented Mrs. J. W. Rissler who showed three film reels of pictures: "The Life of Mark Twain," "Bronco Busters" and "Juan Fernandez" which showed the events leading up to the writing of the book Robinson Crusoe. ## Not Just a Money Drive--

Muscular Dystrophy Drive Has Educational Purpose

Muscular Dystrophy Chapter volunteers in Pettis County are sometimes asked why MDAA conducts an independent campaign instead of merging with all the other agencies combined in the United Fund effort.

This is an old question and one that crops up periodically in any community alert to its social needs, the local volunteers explained today. There are many answers to it pro and con. For the problem that can be solved by money alone, the consolidated appeal is a boon but for others it is not wise. A large part of MDAA's program is educational, bringing to the public an awareness of nature and the grave outlook of the scourge just as much as the March of Dimes focused on polio. The volunteer for MDAA does more than make collections, she also makes known the facts about muscular dystrophy. The most significant part of the MDAA program is its medical research objective, the discovery of the cause, cure and treatment of the disease, the origins of which are still unknown.

The cost of realizing this goal cannot be measured in fixed sums no more than its failure to realize it can be counted exactly in crippled limbs and lost lives.

Polio has been conquered through a separate March of Dimes. Muscular dystrophy can be next. MDAA protects the wishes of the chapter members, the volunteer workers and the giver. Merged in a package drive the MDAA's distinctive character would soon be lost. The average contributor to a federated community appeal would be hard pressed to remember half the causes to which he gives. MDAA cannot afford to take the chance to lose its identity in a group. The right to join or not to join is fundamental to the American tradition. Only voluntary contributions are asked by the MDAA. The expense of the Pettis County MDA drive is very low and it is all volunteer work.

Volunteer workers in some of the wards and precincts are as follows: first precinct, third ward, Mrs. J. E. Wolf, captain, Mrs. Orie McKinney, Mrs. Palmer Nichols, Mrs. John Stanton, Mrs. Orville Raymer, Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Harry Arnold, Mrs. Ray Dirck, Mrs. George Arquit, and Mrs. Gene Embry. Fourth precinct, first ward, Mrs. George Reese, captain, and the following high school students, Marjorie McKinney, Bootsie Holloway, Sandra Goodpasture, Dottie Goode, Donna Knox, captain, Mrs. Paul Lang, Mrs. Charles Griggs, Mrs. Edward Christian, Mrs. Emma Coulter, Mrs. Walter Jessee, Mrs. Hugh Curry, Mrs. William Stewart, Mrs. Billy Thomas and Mrs. Henry Powers.

Dan Robinson Is Speaker At Optimists

Dan Robinson, who with three other Sedalia men, has just returned from a trip to British Columbia, Canada, was the speaker at the Optimist Club Tuesday noon, at the Bothwell Hotel and told many interesting things about the trip. Pictures taken by the group were shown by Capt. Duncan, Whiteman Air Force Base.

Robinson told of the climate there and of the beautiful flowers and wonderful fruit grown in that country. He told of the industries, two of the biggest being the jack salmon fishing and canning and logging.

There had to be a guide for fishing and one for hunting, the hunting guide could not be used for fishing and the guides had to keep within a 20-mile area, he said.

Such a trip could not be without experiences and the Sedalians seemed to have them. They ran out of gas and one of them had to walk quite a distance for gas; they got lost once in the fog, they saw 43 antelope and any one of the men could have shot one, they were so close, but the season wasn't open in the county they were in, it was open in the next county, Robinson said. They caught such big salmon that Robinson said his hands were bleeding by the time he got it in and with all the wonderful fish they caught, and the moose one of the men shot, the skinning of the moose, the cutting up and getting the meat ready, the real struggle of trying to carry the heavy packages of meat and fish to the trailer—and after they got it packed up and ready to go, it took them three days to find any dry ice. The people couldn't imagine what they wanted with dry ice and when they finally did find some, Robinson said, it was too late. The meat and fish were spoiled.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. Charles Blaich, and Dr. K. L. Holdren gave the invocation. Frank Mohl, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Charles Hanna led the singing with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano. Ed Kehr was welcomed as a new member.

Mob Hurls Objects At Singapore Police

SINGAPORE, Oct. 25 (AP)—A mob hurled stones and bottles tonight at police surrounding two Chinese high schools where Communist-led students are staging a sit-down strike.

Police had been ordered to eject the 2,500 students by force if they refused to abandon their stay-in-strike by 8 p. m. The mob attacked as police began stripping propaganda banners from the school grounds.

A police station near the two schools also was stoned by the mob, but no serious injuries were reported.

The students have demanded negotiations with the government over the banning of a leftist students' union.

Gets Life Sentence For Slaying Girl, 20

SALINAS, Calif., Oct. 25 (AP)—Pfc. John Kruse Jr., 21, of St. Paul, Minn., was sentenced to life in prison today for the first degree murder of 20-year-old Anne Shay of Fairfield, Conn., at Monterey last July 28.

Miss Shay and another girl were visiting in Monterey when they met Kruse, then a cook at the Presidio of Monterey, and he persuaded Miss Shay to go on a date with him. Her beaten and nearly nude body was found in some bushes in a motel patio after Kruse told military police he had beaten the young woman.

Kruse was charged both with murder and attempted rape. In pronouncing sentence today, Superior Judge Stanley Lawson assessed the life sentence for murder and then added 20 years for the attempted rape and ordered they be served consecutively.

ments are required to check this growing rise in living costs," Carey said. He is a supporter of Adlai Stevenson.

The Labor Department announced that its living cost index rose three-tenths of 1 per cent from Aug. 15 to Sept. 15, reaching 117.1 per cent of the 1947-49 base period.

This was the highest point in history. It marked the third time in four months that old records have fallen.

Most Consumer Costs Up
Food prices remained unchanged, but consumer costs for virtually everything else edged up, including clothing, rents and household operation, and medical and personal care.

The department also announced that factory worker earnings hit a new high in September. It said weekly spendable pay for factory workers, meaning their earnings less taxes rose by more than a dollar from August to $66.65 for the single worker and to $74.04 for the worker with three dependents.

Because wages have gone up faster than prices the department said that the factory worker can now buy about 2 per cent more than he could a year ago.

Adolf Hitler Legally Dead

BERCHESGADEN, Germany, Oct. 25 (AP)—It's official now. Hitler is dead.

A civil court here in the foothills of the German Alps confirmed legally today what the world has been sure of for years. The court not only fixed the day of the year but the hour as well. An official notice, tacked up on the court's bulletin board, stated simply:

"Adolf Hitler, born April 20, 1889 in Braunau on Inn (Austria) is dead. The time of his death was established as the 30th of April, 1945, 1530 hours" (3:30 p.m.). The Bavarian Ministry of Justice said in a 4½ page document made public at the same time "there can no longer exist the least doubt" that Hitler is dead.

The statement confirmed that Hitler shot himself to death in his Berlin bunker, as Russian troops swept into the city. Hitler committed suicide immediately after Eva Braun, the mistress he married the day before, swallowed poison. Their bodies were cremated and buried together.

Eyewitness

times of the shooting in Parliament Square today could not be ascertained. I saw the body of a woman lying under the arcades of the Ministry of Agriculture, opposite the Parliament building, and three other bodies lying on the street car track.

When I revisited the scene in the afternoon the bodies had been taken away. One eyewitness said there were about two or three hundred dead on this square but figures naturally are exaggerated sometimes in such critical times.

The same eyewitness also said that it was not the Russian tank I saw that started the shooting, but a bunch of security police shooting into the back of the crowd facing Parliament.

Simultaneously other unidentified elements, probably also security police soldiers, opened fire from the roofs of nearby buildings.

fellow drivers and has received the enthusiastic endorsement of educational, civic and law enforcement officials.

He points out that for the most part teen-agers can become excellent drivers because of their fast reflexes and superior physical condition. In addition, they have the advantages of better cars, better highways and better traffic controls, which were not available to parents.

Part of his day here was given over to checking visually the cars of any students who request it. Parsons maintains that highway safety begins with the safety of the automobile and says that a visual inspection may disclose defects which, if not remedied, could lead to a serious accident. He also appeared at the driver training classes and presented a racing film.

which he voted against that day was a motion to send the bill back to the committee with instructions to write President Eisenhower's request for advance payments into the bill, and by voting against this motion Mr. Moulder voted against every American farmer.

The Republican candidate also charged that Moulder's claim that committee work kept him from voting on a few bills and that these votes did not require his presence was inadequate—that committee work would not have interfered and that the bills were, on the contrary, important ones.
